FULL-TIME UNDERGRADUATE COURSES

Certificate, Diploma, BA, BA (Hons), Graduate Diploma, and all courses undertaken by ordinands sponsored by the Church of England

	Standard	Bursary	Net payable
Tuition
- full-time residential track	8,170	(1,120)	7,050
- full-time non-residential track (note 4)	6,715	(595)	6,120
Ministerial formation fee (note 5)	1,020	-	1,020
Maintenance and Community (applies to the full-time residential track)
- term-time board and lodging (note 2)	4,821	(121)	4,700
- external (note 3)	2,583	(1,283)	1,300
Study room (note 6)	735	-	735

Notes

1. The tuition and maintenance fees are stated after applying a bursary to the full fee. If a bursary is not needed, the standard fee will be charged. The bursary is not available to students sponsored by the Church of England. Additional bursaries may be available in certain cases and requests should be made to the executive director. The tuition fee includes the charge for university validation.
2. The higher maintenance fee covers the provision of term-time board and lodging as well as general college amenities. A rebate of £672 is built into the fee in respect of meals not provided by the college, namely (broadly) weekend meals and four weekday evening meals.
3. The lower maintenance fee covers general college amenities and, specifically,
 - (i) week-day lunches and occasional other meals,
 - (ii) 10 free lunches per term for spouse,
 - (iii) eligibility for college-managed houses or flats, where available, at rates generally below the market and in most cases exempt from Council tax, and
 - (iv) access to the college day nursery at preferential rates.

The maintenance/community fee also gives eligibility to join one of the college pastoral groups.
4. Students following the full-time non-residential track receive meals free of charge when attending required courses, subject to availability. Accommodation can be provided, where available, at standard rates.
5. Students following a ministerial formation programme for ordination or equivalent are subject to an additional fee.
6. Shared study rooms are available, if required, normally in term-time only.
7. Spouses of full-time students may undertake full-time courses at a fee equivalent to 50% of the net tuition fee. They pay other fees at the full rate.
8. Fees are payable in three instalments on the first day of the college term in September, January and April. Each term's fee is not refundable in the case of early withdrawal from the course. Non-payment of tuition fees may lead to termination of the programme.

PART-TIME UNDERGRADUATE COURSES

assessed (taster modules)	360
audited - biblical languages	250
- other	180

Notes

1. Fees are charged annually for the duration of the programme and include a charge for university validation. The university charge has a small fixed annual component, which is included in each year's fee.
2. An additional charge is made for meals taken in college, except in the case of weekend meals where weekend attendance is a required part of the course. Residence in college is possible by arrangement through the accommodation office, in which case the standard fees for maintenance, board and lodging become payable. The day-time fee entitles part-time students to participate in chapel, the Spirituality course, and the non-assessed programme of the School of Leadership. It does not include membership of a pastoral group.
3. Where a student taking a taster module proceeds to the full programme the standard fee applies, against which the fee for the taster module will be offset.
4. Individual modules from other courses may be available for audit, by agreement. The quoted charge is based on a module bearing 10 credits. See also note 5.
5. Spouses of full-time students may undertake part-time courses at a fee equivalent to 50% of the tuition fee. They may audit individual modules free of charge where places are available.
6. All per annum fees are subject to an inflationary increase in subsequent years, made by reference to the RPI and CPI.
7. Fees are payable in three instalments on the first day of the college term in September, January and April. Each term's fee is not refundable in the case of early withdrawal from the course. Fees for individual modules are payable in advance of the module. Non-payment of tuition fees may lead to termination of the programme.

POSTGRADUATE TAUGHT COURSES

Individual taster modules (note 4)	550	N/A

Notes

1. The tuition fee includes the university validation fee.
2. Students who enrol on the PGDip with a view to proceeding to the MA are charged from the outset as MA candidates, with retrospective adjustment if not upgraded.
3. Part-time postgraduate courses are normally only available to UK and EU citizens or others who do not require full-time study status for visa purposes as well as to those studying at a distance whilst based overseas.
4. Where a student taking a taster module proceeds to the full programme the standard fee applies, against which the fee for the taster module will be offset.
5. Any accommodation or meals required in college are charged at standard rates. Full-time students may benefit from college managed accommodation and study rooms at the same rates as for undergraduate students (see maintenance fees, page 2). Payment of the maintenance/community fee entitles such students to full community membership, including membership of a pastoral group.
6. Spouses of full-time students may undertake full or part-time postgraduate taught courses at a 50% discount on the tuition fee.
7. All per annum fees are subject to an inflationary increase in subsequent years made by reference to the RPI and CPI.
8. Fees are payable in three instalments on the first day of the college term in September, January and April. Each term's fee is not refundable in the case of early withdrawal from the course. Non-payment of fees may lead to termination of the programme.

POSTGRADUATE RESEARCH COURSES

Fee payable	3,150	5,050

Notes

1. The college offers bursaries to non-EU students awarded on a case-by-case basis up to the maximum stated above.
2. Some other scholarships are available to exceptional candidates and are awarded at the discretion of the Research Admissions Committee.
3. Research fees are charged according to the length of time the student remains under supervision. The normal minimum period of study is 36 months for full-time students and 72 months for part-time students. Where an extension to supervised study is agreed, full tuition fees are payable during the period. If an extension following the period of supervised study is required, or the provision of supervision remains necessary after submission of a dissertation, a reduced termly extension fee of 15% of the standard fee becomes payable. There is no reduction for early completion.
4. Part-time postgraduate courses are normally only available to UK and EU citizens or others who do not require full-time study status for visa purposes as well as to those studying at a distance whilst based overseas.
5. Accommodation and meals required in college are charged at standard rates. Full-time students may benefit from college managed accommodation and study rooms at the same rates as for undergraduate students (see maintenance fees, page 2).
6. The cost of printing dissertations will incur an extra charge.
7. A non-refundable deposit of £100 is payable before the course commences and will be offset against the first year's fees.
8. Student spouses are not eligible for a reduction of fees on postgraduate research programmes.
9. All annual fees are subject to an inflationary increase in subsequent years.
10. Fees are payable in three instalments on the first day of the college term in September, January and April. Each term's fee is not refundable in the case of early withdrawal from the course. Non-payment of fees may lead to termination of the programme.

Tuition and Study

Auditing lectures whilst on sabbatical is free of charge. However, where a person wishes to register for a particular course and be assessed normal course fees apply. Formal instruction or supervision given by a college tutor is normally charged at £55 per hourly session (usual maximum of two sessions per week).

Chapel and Library

Sabbatical guests are welcome to take part in college worship and to use the library for reading (though not borrowing) at no extra charge.

Note

1. During term-time, weekday lunches and one evening meal (on a Tuesday) are provided in the college dining room. The charge for these meals is £6. For all other meals a kitchen is available for use by guests for self-catering purposes.

Easter only (3 weeks)	224
Vacation lunch (when available)	6
Part-time Carter residents (note 3)
Bed & breakfast	22
Term-time lunch/dinner	6

Notes

1. The student maintenance fee covers term-time plus the week before welcome week in September (starting on the Monday), half-term breaks, the Christmas vacation and the full weekends following the end of the Spring and Summer terms. During term-time all lunches and one evening meal are provided. During half-terms lunch is provided. Vacations are self-catering, though lunches may be booked when available at the rate indicated above.
2. The all year round supplement is payable by those wishing to be resident over the Easter and Summer vacations. The quoted fee represents a one-third discount on the standard charge for the periods covered. The standard daily rate applies for shorter periods of vacation residence.
3. Discounts may be available on room charges for longer term stays.
4. Full-time Carter residents can reserve the Carter guest accommodation for their guests free of charge. Where they use accommodation normally available to conference guests, the part-time Carter resident charge applies, at £22 for B&B.
